Òlàjú Art Group & AMCAF Overview

Òlàjú Art Group (OAG) is a non-profit organization focused on promoting contemporary African arts and culture. Each year, in collaboration with the DreamWeek Summit, we host the Òlàjú African Market Creative Arts Festival (AMCAF) which provides an opportunity for guests to experience multi-disciplinary art forms from across the continent and beyond.

For the 2019 AMCAF, we are expecting to host over 300 influential visitors from around the city and surrounding area for a celebration of contemporary African arts and culture. In addition to viewing art, tasting foods, and listening to music, guests will be able to shop from a curated selection of vendors selling African products and services. Thus, OAG is seeking participation from vendors to provide unique items for sale to our attendees. Vendors will be expected to present a professional collection of African/African-inspired products or services.

Vendor Registration Process:

- Submit the vendor application form
- Pay $125 participation fee

Vendors will be provided:

- 5 x 10 ft booth space
- 6 ft table and 2 chairs
- Selected designs featured in runway presentation

Any additional equipment needed for set-up will be the responsibility of the vendor. Please, message before submitting your application if special considerations are needed so we can confirm whether or not we can accommodate.
